Małgorzata Markiewicz: Can I Make You Feel Bad?

If you've ever felt part of some kind of strange power-play in a relationship, this interesting exhibit should be well worth popping into. Polish artist Małgorzata Markiewicz explores the emotional strains and tensions that lie behind the act of giving gifts, and power relations in relationships.

Through neon, metal and ceramic, photographs, crocheted sculptures and found objects, she tackles themes such as the eerie, gender roles and gendered spaces, embodiments of desire, power, and intimidating remarks in domestic situations. It's all about relationships, love and lies at this one which are subjects plenty of us have experience of. *sobs*.
